

Too Late to Apologize: A Declaration

Halfway across the globe And we're standing on new ground Screaming 'cross the waves You can't hear a sound There's no fair trials, no trade, no liberties No tea We've colonized America; we won't stand for tyranny, Oh king	Unalienable rights Among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit Of happiness
And it's too late to apologize It's too late I said it's too late to apologize It's too late	And it's too late to apologize It's too late I said It's too late to apologize It's too late
We've paid your foolish tax, read the acts And they just won't do We want to make it clear, we believe this much is true All men were created with certain	I said it's too late to apologize, yeah It's too late I said it's too late to apologize, yeah
	Halfway across the globe And we're standing on new ground

While you are watching the video, write down all the important historical events in the video that we have talked about in class.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

1. Who was the main character/singer in the video?
2. What are some things stated that it was "too late to apologize" for?
3. What person or group of people were the men at the table referring to?
4. There was a number written on the drum at the end of the video? What was the significance of that number?
5. Interpret the first line of the song. What is meant by "Half way across the world and we're standing on new ground"? How does this quote relate to the rebellion in the colonies?